We've been watching social media all day and the Blackland Prairie Rising Tide site has an initiative gaining momentum for tomorrow. They have declared "Frack Free Fridays" will occur until "Vantage leaves town". As of a few minutes ago 71 people have said they will show up in protest at the Nail Rd site in the morning and it grows by 7 or 8 every hour.

Its hard to say how many if anyone will continue to sacrifice themselves to arrest, but just the number of people planning to show could make it very difficult to manage if they up the tactics. That many people may be able to block the site entrance or the road and be hard to herd. I've been in touch with the Vantage managers and communicated to them to be prepared to have potential delays in or out of the site.

We will have a few extra officers on standby and will attempt to peacefully move people aside as we have. The media didn't show up yesterday or today, and did not even inquire about today. We know they are keeping in touch with the protest leaders so I'm sure there will be coverage tomorrow.

The Frack Free Group has declared "Frack Free Fridays" and as of 1800 hours this evening has 57 people saying they are "going" to show up on Nail Rd and its ticking up quickly. Just want to make sure we are not shorthanded in the jail tomorrow morning.
